Ancestral Notes

Anita Marie Kuebel

Recollections of her father and grandfather by Anita Kuebel (Streff)

"My dad<sup>1</sup> and grandfather<sup>2</sup> always had riding horses and our boys<sup>3</sup> had custom made gigs made especially for them by someone closely akin to my dad. I remember he traveled extensively to New York, Chicago and different parts of the USA and also to Mexico, Cuba and other countries.

"My grandfather was a versatile man with many interests - furniture manufacturer (Crescent Furniture Co.), a cooperage, a tannery (raw hides, minks, etc.), brewery interests and even thought of freezing strawberries in 1910. (They called him a dreamer.) Also, he raised grapefruit on the shores of Lake Pontchartrain - had 80 acres. They said he was mad to think anyone would ever eat grapefruit. This land now sells for $10,000.00 for a 50 ft. lot." (Note: Anita wrote this in 1968.)

"My father believed in Orville Wright. He believed we would see a person on the other end of a telephone. Again, they thought he was nuts. He had one of the first automobiles in New Orleans. We had inside plumbing when others did not. We had the only telephone around and a self-opening carriage gate - another of his mad ideas. He was also one of the first owners of a talking machine (phonograph) with the cylinders.

"They were jobbers and owned several amusement pavilions with all of the Mills Novelty equipment. They also had one of the first strawberry preserve factories. (I believe on Howard Street.)

"But fate stepped in and my beautiful and talented mother died needlessly, leaving a newborn babe, my sister<sup>4</sup>. My father was a dazed man for he was very young. He had money to be sure, but without my mother he was lost. Had she lived, who know what would have happened - but God know best."
